

Pebblestone Fashion, software that fits

The question:

“They understand their own software, but do they also understand my company?”

Your company operates in the fashion market, for example you have a wholesale company in apparel, footwear and/or sporting goods. Your customers are wholesalers and retailers. Possibly you also deliver directly to the consumer.

Your company is confronted with constant change. This can be caused by external influences; customer demands on delivery times, quality and service are increasing all the time. Internal factors also play a part; your company experiences a steady growth or occasionally leaps forward and your need for information grows. In short: Your company processes and information needs are changing!

Your need:

- Efficiency
- Productivity
- Effectiveness

You have realised that your present automation solution is no longer capable of following your growth. Therefore you are looking for a software solution that not only supports your company processes in the best possible way, but increases efficiency, productivity and effectiveness and is able to grow with you in future. You are searching for a solution that helps you improve your competitive position, by supporting and strengthening your critical success issues.

You have made contact with several software suppliers and seen many solutions. You have been impressed by all the demonstrations you have been given, but are nevertheless bothered by one very important question:

“They understand their own software, but do they also understand my company?”

Most software solutions offer all basic functionality for a proper conduct of business like purchasing, logistics, sales, manufacturing etc. However, this does not cover the finesses that are essential for and give extra value to your company’s business. To put it in fashion terms:

You do not need a ready-made but a tailor-made suit.

Nevertheless, there is an answer to your question:
Pebblestone Fashion.

Pebblestone Fashion:

We have the solution for the fashion market

“Pebblestone Fashion” offers a seamless integration of all processes within your company. This goes for all types of companies in the fashion market: manufacturing, CMT, wholesale and retail companies.

All functions are completely supported in an efficient and effective way:

- Financial management
- Sales
- Purchases
- Manufacturing
- Logistics
- CRM
- E-business
- Product development

Specific requirements of the market are covered throughout the solution. Examples of these are item variants with according prices, forecasting, assortments, styling, order picking, delivery proposals etc.

Pebblestone Fashion supports the market requirements in one integrated solution that automates your primary processes completely. The powerful way Pebblestone Fashion provides you with information ensures the ability to strengthen your critical success issues. In other words: “Pebblestone Fashion” improves your competitive advantage.

Because of it’s modular structure, Pebblestone Fashion fits both smaller and larger companies. It supports the growth of your company and offers easy accessibility of all information.

A solid base

Pebblestone Fashion is based on Navision Attain. The Danish Navision a/s which develops Navision Attain, has become part of the Business Solutions Division of Microsoft, the world’s largest player in the software market.

The general version of this broad ERP-solution is marketed in 26 countries all over the world by Navision representatives per country. On the basis of Navision Attain, local dealers develop market specific solutions. In this way, more than 125.000 (!) companies worldwide have been automated with a “State of the Art” solution. The global structure of the Navision organisation offers you maximum security concerning quality and continuity of your solution.

As an NSC (Navision Solution Centre) Pebblestone information systems has been certified to supply, implement and develop Navision software. Pebblestone Fashion has been registered with Navision as a so-called “add-on” as the international solution for the fashion market.

Through the combination of a worldwide base and specialised market specific knowledge, you are always sure to have the most up-to-date solution for your market.

Besides this, Navision offers the possibility to let the solution grow with your company. Pebblestone Fashion has retained the flexibility for which Navision Attain is known. When your company processes change, as a result of growth or changing market conditions, Pebblestone Fashion changes with you. You will never feel stuck and limited in your movement as in undersized clothing.

Specialist experience

Pebblestone's experience in the fashion market already started in 1979. Since 1995, it is operating as an independent, fast growing company. Around 50 enthusiastic employees lead projects from offices in the Netherlands and Belgium. Worldwide, Navision Solution Centres are supported in marketing, selling and implementing Pebblestone Fashion in their local market.

Pebblestone information systems has specialised completely in the fashion market. Our employees have sound knowledge of the specific processes of your company. They are capable of advising and supporting you very well.

Pebblestone information systems is the specialist in the automation of companies in the fashion market, whether they are wholesale or production companies or chain stores with a central logistic operation, including "Point-of-sale"- functionality. This goes for companies that either offer apparel, footwear and/or sporting goods.

Your solution

Pebblestone's customers are typical examples for the product groups of the market on which it focuses: footwear, fashion clothing, bags, team wear, socks, sporting goods, outdoor clothing, lingerie, functional clothing and logistic fashion services. Some of these examples are shown on the backside of this page.

Pebblestone is completely "at home" in this market. The question whether we do not only understand our own software but also your company can therefore be answered frankly with: "Yes".
